SWISSPEARL

Located in the pristine wilderness of Montana, Ulery's Lake Lodge is a private club offering breathtaking views of Lone Mountain. The material palette, featuring wood, stone, steel, and Swisspearl fiber cement panels, was chosen to create coherence throughout the network of cabins while blending with the natural forest colors. The use of stone and wood echoes Montana's traditional materials, while steel and Swisspearl panels add a modern touch. Initially selected to reduce costs, Swisspearl panels became a favorite for their pristine installation. The panels extend beyond the exterior façade, integrating seamlessly into the interior, cladding the massive fireplace and double-volume entry.
