

Inchydoney Island Lodge & Spa

Cork, Ireland

Architect	Hogan Architects, Dublin, Ireland
Facade	Swisspearl Plank Original Plank Original CP 150 Anthracite Grey Textured
Location	Inchydoney Island, Clonakilty, West Cork, P85 X258
Photographer	Swisspearl Group, Niederurnen, Switzerland
Type of Building	Hotel & Gastronomy

SWISSPEARL

The Inchydoney Hotel and Spa, situated along the scenic coast, exemplifies a seamless blend of contemporary architectural design with the surrounding natural environment. The building's façade features Swisspearl Plank Original P150 in a deep navy tone, contributing to its sophisticated and elegant appearance while harmonising with the coastal landscape. The design features expansive windows and balconies, offering guests unobstructed panoramic views of the Atlantic Ocean and the lush greenery.

These elements not only flood the interior spaces with natural light but also create a strong visual connection between the indoor areas and the stunning outdoor scenery. The angular rooflines and clean, geometric forms enhance the building's stylish aesthetic, making the Inchydoney Hotel and Spa a striking architectural landmark that complements its beautiful surroundings.