Crabtree Terrace is a mixed-use development in Raleigh, North Carolina, designed by Gensler for East West Partners and Northridge Capital. Completed in 2019, the project combines residential, office, retail, and hospitality spaces within a walkable urban development near Crabtree Valley Mall.

Swisspearl Patina Original NXT panels add material contrast and texture to the facade composition while complementing the project's contemporary architectural language. Integrated alongside glass and metal elements, the fiber cement surfaces help break down the scale of the larger building volumes and contribute to the layered material character of the development.

Swisspearl panels for the project were supplied by American Fiber Cement.
